PREFACE.

IN responding to the call for yet another edition of THE PRESCRIBER, I have been again enabled to put the work through complete revision, and to bring it up to date in the matter of the most recent developments of homœopathy. To several correspondents I am indebted for pointing out errors that had escaped me in the last edition, and for valued suggestions, of many of which I have made use. Mr. W. PUMFREY and an Australian correspondent have done me the favour to compile an Index of Remedies, which has enabled me to correct the List of Remedies which forms part of the Introduction. To include the Index of Remedies in the book itself would demand more space than THE PRESCRIBER'S limits would allow ; but I hope to make use of the "Index" in compiling a Materia Medica Companion to the Prescriber, a work which I have now in hand.

I would like to call attention to the fact that the Publishers supply interleaved copies of THE PRESCRIBER. These have been found of great use by many for jotting down bits of experience, or gleanings from the journals and medical literature in their appropriate places, where they are always to be found afterwards.

In conclusion, I would again urge upon users of THE PRESCRIBER that the work is in no way to be considered as final. It is a stepping-stone to the higher homœopathic practice. It may help to make a man an artist in homœopathy, but that end can never be accomplished without the most unsparing and devoted study of the Materia Medica.

PREFACE TO THIRD EDITION.

IN a former preface the circumstances which led to the compilation of this work were fully explained. It is designed primarily for the beginner in homœopathic practice, as a handy book of reference, to enable him to find speedily the most suitable remedy for a given case, with hints as to the best attenuation to employ, and how frequently to repeat.

The second edition of THE PRESCRIBER, comprising double the number of copies issued in the first, has naturally taken a longer time to exhaust. This has afforded the author an opportunity of making many annotations in his interleaved copies; and the most important of these have been embodied in the present edition. Several entirely new headings have been added; and, in deference to suggestions, an attempt has been made to classify the large chapters, "Cough" and "Headache." The difficulty in satisfactorily classifying these, or any other disorders which have many varieties, lies in the fact that the divisions are necessarily more or less artificial and partial. For instance, "spasmodic" may be taken to describe one kind of cough; "dry" may describe another class; "hacking" another, and so on; but many medicines will cause coughs having all these characteristics, and, consequently, it will be of little use to classify the same medicine under each of the heads, whilst it would be misleading to place it only under one. To meet this difficulty the leading features in the symptoms of the drugs mentioned in these two chapters have been italicised, so that they will more readily catch the eye; and under subsidiary headings peculiar conditions of the diseases have been added, with their corresponding drugs, so that they may be more easily found.

In order to enable those who use the book to avoid the practice of alternating medicines, greater precision in differentiating their indications has been aimed at. Where formerly two remedies were advised to be given in alternation, the particular indications when to give the one and when the other are now supplied. The indications for the remedies generally will be found to be more symptomatic and less pathological than formerly. Medicines have no regard to the names of diseases, either pathological or nosological, but only to the symptoms of each individual patient. A repertorial work, whose basis of arrangement is clinical or nosological, has, in strict logic, no raison d'être in homœopathy; but practically it has a by no means unimportant place. Names of diseases correspond to well-defined groups of symptoms, which find analogous groups in the symptom-record of the various medicines. A clinical repertory like THE PRESCRIBER shows at a glance what these medicines are, and how they are to be distinguished from each other. If the most similar remedy is not found under any of the medicines named recourse must be had to the Materia Medica itself and the Repertories of its Symptomatology. THE PRESCRIBER is not intended to be a substitute for a knowledge of the Materia Medica, but only as a help to the successful use of it.

For the benefit of non-professional readers who may find the book of service when professional advice is not available, the Glossary compiled by the late Mr. HENRI HUSSON for the second edition has been retained.

INTRODUCTION.

PLAN OF THE WORK.

THE plan of the work is simple. The names of the diseases are given in alphabetical order ; and where a disease has more names than one, each name is given with a reference to the one under which the treatment is prescribed. This will generally be found to be the name by which it is most commonly known. Under each heading the names of the medicine or medicines most useful in the particular disease are given. When more medicines than one are named, there will be found prefixed to each the symptoms which would lead the prescriber to choose that in preference to the rest. Where no such differentiating symptoms can be given, the medicines are named in the order of their general applicability, and numbered ; it is intended that the prescriber shall use them in that order, if there are no other symptoms in the case pointing to one more than the other.

Where a number of symptoms are given as belonging to one medicine, these will be found separated either by commas or semicolons. All those only separated by commas belong to a single group, and these must all be present in order to indicate the medicine. For example : under Sciatica will be found, "Pains made worse by sitting, relieved somewhat by walking, entirely by lying down, Am. mur.:" this means that Ammonium muriati- cum is indicated when the pain of sciatica is marked by all these characters. If in any case the pain were noted as being "relieved somewhat by walking," without the other two, the medicine would not be appropriate. Again, under the same heading we have : "Purely neuralgic ; accompanying paralysis ; in old and debilitated subjects, Ars.." this means that Arsenic is likely to benefit all cases that are of a purely neuralgic kind, as opposed to inflammatory or rheumatic ; also sciatica in patients suffering from paralysis ; also sciatica in old and debilitated patients. Each characteristic is sufficient in itself to indicate the medicine, and this the semicolons are intended to show ; should two of the characteristics, or all three, be found in the same patient, the medicine would be still more strongly indicated. But it must be understood that all the medicines given under any heading have a distinct specific relation to the part or the affection under consideration ; and whilst I have sought to give the distinguishing traits of each drug, that the best medicine may be chosen first, still all the medicines are more or less homœopathic, and if one fails, the one which seems next in appropriateness should be tried. But it must always be borne in mind that the whole of the symptoms of any patient must be taken into consideration, and not the most urgent only. The drug which corresponds best to the totality of a patient's symptoms will be the most certain to cure.

Under certain headings, as Tongue, Taste, Smell, &c. I have given some characteristic conditions, which, however, do not in themselves constitute disease. They occur as symptoms in various diseases, and as the result of the action of certain drugs, and are often useful in determining the choice of a medicine, if that medicine is in relation to the case as a whole. For example, if a prescriber is in doubt which of two medicines to give in a case of dyspepsia, a reference to the heading Tongue may show which of these medicines is capable of producing a condition of tongue most like that present and determine the choice.

RULES FOR PRACTICE.

The beginner in homœopathic practice should, in the first instance, make himself absolute master of some dozen of the most widely useful remedies, with all their characteristics and peculiarities ; of the conditions under which their symptoms appear and cease, and of their special times of occurrence, if they have any. The following is a list I recommend, the medicines being named in the order of their importance :—Sulphur, lycopodium, calcarea, arsenicum, aconitum, nux vomica, pulsatilla, silica, hepar, china, thuja, belladonna, bryonia. An accurate knowledge of the symptomatology of these drugs will enable the practitioner to deal successfully with the majority of the cases he meets. But it will also do more than this for him ; it will give him a solid basis on which to build up a knowledge of the rest of the materia medica.

BOOKS.

No practitioner of homœopathy should be without a copy of HAHNEMANN'S great works, The Organon of Medicine and the treatise on Chronic Diseases. He will learn from these works more about the essential nature of disease, and how to deal with it successfully, than all the modern medical works can teach him. His Materia Medica Pura, translated by DUDGEON, and published by the Hahnemann Publishing Society, should also be in the possession of every one. The monumental work of Dr. TIMOTHY ALLEN, of New York, the Encyclopædia of Pure Materia Medica, comprises all the symptoms of the drugs given in HAHNEMANN'S works, and a vast number of others observed since his time. It is beyond comparison the most important work on materia medica ever published. A good and convenient Repertory is still a desideratum. The Repertory part of CURIE'S Jahr is perhaps the best. Second-hand copies are to be obtained, as also of the Symptomen Codex (materia medica) of JAHR. BÖENNINGHAUSEN'S Pocket-Book is invaluable. The Cypher Repertory of the Hahnemannian Publishing Society is excellent as far as it goes, but it is still far from being complete. Lippe's Repertory of Characteristics is very useful, as is also Dr. Winterburn's Pocket Repertory. The Index to Dr. Allen's Encyclopædia is indispensable to the users of that work. HERING'S Analytical Therapeutics of the symptoms of the Mind, and his Guiding Symptoms, are invaluable. FARRINGTON'S Clinical Materia Medica and CARROL DUNHAM'S Lectures should be in the possession of all.

CASE TAKING.

The first step towards making a good prescription is a well-taken case. The homœopathist takes his case with much more care than do others. The directions given by HAHNEMANN himself in the Organon should be carefully studied, and the spirit of them followed. The patient should be allowed to tell his own story, stating just what he feels, and the particular symptoms he is most anxious to be rid of. The practitioner should then ascertain the conditions under which the symptoms occur, the times of day at which they are worst, and any concomitant symptoms that may accompany them. If it is not then quite obvious what remedy he ought to prescribe, he will be prepared to consult his books of reference, knowing clearly what symptoms he wishes to find.

In my own practice I have found of great service in taking cases detached blank forms such as I here append. The headings of the Hahnemannian Scheme are spaced out, and under each I put the symptoms as told me by the patient, or as ascertained in examination.

RULES FOR PRESCRIBING.

Having found the medicine which corresponds to the case, there remain the questions of attenuation, dose, and frequency of repetition. In these matters dogmatism is out of place, and every man's experience is his best guide. But some guidance is needed before experience is available, and this I have tried to give. In the matter of attenuation, my own experience leads me to believe that all attenuations, from the mother-tincture upwards, are curative, provided the choice of the medicine is correct. When the similarity is very close between drug symptoms and patient's symptoms, the attenuation cannot be too high to cure, and the higher it is the more permanent the cure is likely to be. But the question of attenuation is secondary to that of the selection of the drug.

It is taken for granted that the reader possesses at least an elementary acquaintance with homœopathic pharmacy. It will be sufficient to state here that the signs ϕ and θ following the name of a medicine stand for the strongest preparation of the drug, and the numbers 1, 2, 3, &c., or 1x, 2x, 3x, &c., for the different attenuations. The figures 1, 2, 3, &c., refer to the centesimal attenuations; the proportion being in "1," one part of the strongest preparation of the substance to 99 of the attenuating medium, and in "2," one part of "1" to 99 parts of the attenuating medium, and so on. The figures 1x, 2x, &c., refer to the decimal scale of attenuation; "1x" meaning one part of the strongest preparation to 9 parts of the attenuating medium, 2x one part of 1x to 9 parts of the attenuating medium, and so on.

1. The Attenuation.—After the name of each medicine there will be found the number of the attenuation recommended. When several attenuations are believed to be equally efficacious, the numbers of the lowest and the highest are given, and a bar is placed between them. For example, "Acon. 1—3" would mean Acon. 1, 3x, 2, or 3, and the prescriber may select any one of these as he thinks fit. When the choice lies between two only, the two numbers are joined by an "or": as "Cham. 1 or 6." When no sign or figure follows the name of a medicine the pure substance is meant: e.g., "Kali i. gr. ii." means two grains of the iodide of potassium itself.

2. The Dose.—In all cases where no mention of dose is made, one drop of the tincture, or one pilule is intended. The choice between tinctures and pilules is one of convenience chiefly. When tinctures are preferred, one drop to a teaspoonful or a dessert-spoonful of water is the proper dose. Distilled water, or water that has been boiled, is preferable to tap-water. When triturations are intended, this is always indicated by the number of grains for a dose following the number of the attenuation. For example, "Silic. 3, gr. iii." means three grains of the third trituration of Silica. Triturations may be given dry on the tongue, or suspended in water, as preferred by the patient.

3. The Repetition of the Dose.—For the sake of simplicity and uniformity, the times of the repetition of the dose are given in terms of hours and minutes. After the name of a medicine with its attenuation, "1h." means that the medicine is to be given every hour; "2h." every two hours; "6h." every six hours, or four times a day; "8h." every eight hours, or three times a day; "10m." every ten minutes.

In acute cases HAHNEMANN directs that the medicine should be given at short intervals, in chronic cases at longer. The rule laid down was to give one dose in 3 chronic case, and wait until its effects were exhausted. This may be done in some cases ; in others it is well to repeat the dose at short intervals until a decided effect is produced, and then wait until the action is exhausted before again repeating it. If the same symptoms return the same remedy must be repeated ; if they are changed, a different remedy must be sought.

4. The Time of Day.—The best time for giving medicine (when the repetition of the dose is not too frequent to allow of choice) is from an hour to half an hour before food. In ordering a medicine every six hours (four times a day) the first dose may be given on rising, the second an hour before lunch, the third an hour before dinner, and the last at bedtime. An exception must be made in the case of the lower attenuations of arsenic and iron. These should be given immediately after food.

5. Alternation.—This is a practice which is to be guarded against. If two medicines seem almost equally indicated, it is best to decide upon one of them, and give that. When the prescriber has seen whether it answers his expectation or not, he will be able to decide on the propriety of giving the other. To give both at the same time destroys the value of the observation, and tends to weaken the prescriber's powers of diagnosing the remedy.

6. Sleep.—Except in dangerous acute cases patients should not be awakened from sleep to receive their medicine. When it is necessary to give the dose during sleep, it is often possible to do it without arousing the patient.

EXAMPLES OF PRESCRIPTIONS.

1. Acon. 3, 4h. This may be ordered from a chemist in this way :—

Take of Tincture of Aconite, 3, two drachms. One drop in a dessert-spoonful of water every four hours.

(The direction "one drop in a dessert-spoonful of water" merely indicates the proportion of the tincture to the water, and the amount for each dose. It is often more convenient to mix enough for twenty-four hours all at once. In this case six drops would be mixed in six dessert-spoonfuls of water, and a dessert-spoonful of this given every four hours.)

If it is proposed to give the dose in powder form it may be ordered in this way: take of Tincture of Aconite one drop, of Sugar of Milk a sufficient quantity. Make a powder; send of such twenty-four (or whatever number is desired.) One powder on the tongue every four hours.

If pilules (or tablets) are intended to be given, the prescription would be as follows:—

Take of pilules (or tablets) of Aconite 3, two drachms.
One pilule (or tablet) to be taken every four hours.

2. Silic. 3x, gr. ii., 6h.

This may be expanded as follows:—

Take of trituration of Silica 3x two grains; make a powder; send of such twenty-four. One powder to be taken four times a day. Or—

Take of trituration of Silica 3x two drachms, or a quarter of an ounce. As much as would lie on a sixpenny-piece to be taken four times a day. (Small horn scoops are sold by the chemists, made to hold one, two, or three grains each. In prescribing triturations it is often convenient to order one of these, and direct, "a scoopful to be taken," &c.).

Tuberc. H. 200, gl. iv. once a week.

This may be ordered as follows:—

Take of Tuberculinum (Heath's) or Bacillinum 200 four globules † of Sugar of Milk two grains. Make a powder. Send as many as required. One to be taken dry on the tongue once a week. Plain powders of Sach.

Lact. may be ordered in the interval if the patient cannot be made to understand the prolonged action of single doses. Or if other medicines are called for by special symptoms, they may be given between the doses without interfering with the constitutional action of the remedy.

Cholera Asiatica.—PREVENTION.—Wear next the skin a plate of copper (6in. by 4, for a man of large size ; 5in. by 3 for a small man, and for a woman ; 4in. by 2 for children). Let it be fastened round the waist by straps attached to longitudinal slits cut in the ends of the plate, which should be oval. Let the plate rest on the front of the abdominal wall, and let it be made slightly concave, so as to adapt itself to the shape of the body. The plate should be worn day and night. It may be cleansed from time to time by rubbing with vinegar.

In addition to this, if the person to be protected is much exposed to the disease, one drop of Cuprum aceticum 3x should be given in a little water night and morning.

PRELIMINARY SYMPTOMS.—In cholera times, whenever diarrhœa occurs, give Rubini's Tincture of Camphor, five drops on a lump of sugar, every fifteen minutes to every hour, according to the urgency of the symptoms, until the diarrhœa is completely removed.

Should an attack come on without premonitory diarrhœa, sudden coldness and lividity seizing the patient, give Rubini's Camphor, five drops every ten minutes. This may be given if there is diarrhœa at the same time, provided it is not excessive.

The patient should now be kept at rest, and as warm as possible, hot flannels being applied to the abdomen, and hot bottles to the feet. No solid food whatever should be given: water may be taken ad libitum; and small pieces of ice may be given to suck. Milk is the best food, if it is tolerated. Movement is to be avoided. It is better to treat patients at their own homes if at all possible, as the very fact of moving a patient into hospital may make the difference between death and recovery.

If under Camphor reaction does not come on, but, on the contrary, the patient becomes worse, vomiting and purging setting in with violent pains in the body, cold sweat on forehead, give Veratrum album 1, gtt. i. 10 m. If the patient complains much of cramps with the vomiting and purging, Cuprum acet. 3x, gtt. i. 10 m. If the collapse deepens in spite of treatment, and the patient is in danger more from general depression than the discharges, Arsenicum alb. 3x, gtt. i. every ten minutes. When the collapse is most profound, respiration slow, deep, gasping, the patient appearing dead in the intervals, Acid hydrocy. 1, gtt. ii. 10 m.

cult to pass on account of hardness and size, Verat. a. 3, 6h. Palliatives: Persons who have been in the habit of taking purgatives and fear to leave them off, Sul. ʒ at bedtime. A glass of cold water drunk fasting will often suffice to ensure a good evacuation. Or a glass of cold water may be taken at bedtime; or, if cold water is not tolerated, hot water instead. Or this: a tablespoonful of coarse treacle put into a tumbler of water overnight, and drunk by sips in the morning whilst dressing. In constipation in infants, manna used for sweetening their food is often of great service. See under DIET—INFANTS. If other things fail, Hydrast. ʒ, gtt. iii. in a wine-glassful of water, taken in the morning fasting, acts as a mild aperient. A sitz-bath every second night (65°—75° F.), for five or ten minutes, the body and limbs being kept thoroughly warm during the time, is often of great assistance where there is torpor of the bowels. A cold water, or tepid water compress may be worn across the body at night. Whenever constipation is one of many symptoms of disordered health, the medicines directed to the chief disorder will usually remove the constipation also: Spigelia in heart affections, Iris in migraine, Gels. in headaches.

Consumption, Phthisis Pulmonalis, Tuberculosis Pulmonalis.—THREATENED.—Acid dyspepsia, intolerance of milk, in subjects inclined to be fat. Calc. c. 6, 6h.; the same in thin subjects, Calc. iod. 3x, 6h. Where rapid wasting is the most prominent symptom, Iod. 2x, 6h. A course of Tuberculinum (Heath) or Bacillinum (as Dr. Burnett terms it*) 30, 100, or 200, three or four globules once every one, two, or three weeks, according to Dr. Burnett's directions, the value of which I have amply confirmed, given alone or with indicated remedies in the interval will prove marvellously efficacious in all states of "consumptiveness," threatened consumption, or illness other than consumption in patients whose family is consumptive. A convenient way of dispensing Tuberculinum is to order four globules to be put into two grains of Sacch. Lact. and made into a powder.

Koumiss is a most useful article of diet in this and subsequent stages of consumption; and it is something more. Koumiss of mare's milk may be used in any stage, and will often be retained when nothing else will. If Koumiss of cow's milk (Jagielski) is used, begin with A, or full koumiss, No. 2. If there is constipation, give No. 1 instead of No. 2; and if there is tendency to diarrhœa give No. 3. If A is not tolerated, give B, which is less rich in the cheesy part of milk, and more rich in milk-sugar and the mineral salts; the numbers as indicated (by the bowel symptoms) for A stand good for all. When neither A nor B is tolerated, where there is considerable hectic fever, C (or whey koumiss) is most indicated, and will often check the diarrhœa of the last stage of the disease, if No. 3 is given. Koumiss contains carbonic and lactic acids, and a small amount of alcohol; and to these it owes medicinal as well as digestive and food properties.

CHRONIC TUBERCULAR CONSUMPTION FOLLOWING CHRONIC PNEUMONIA, FORMATION OF CAVITIES IN THE LUNGS.—Tuberculinum h. 30--200, may be given as directed above in almost all cases. It will not help all cases, and where no apparent benefit follows or where there is aggravation of symptoms it must be discontinued. In general the most useful medicine is Ars. iod. 3x, gr. ii, thrice daily, immediately after food. (This is apt to cause pains in the body, and even diarrhoea after a time, and then it should be omitted for a few days. I have tried higher attenuations, but have not found them satisfactory. If the Ars. iod. does no good, and when it ceases to do good, a selection may be made from the following.) Chronic pneumonic phthisis with tendency to bleeding, Calc. ars. 3x, gr. iii. 8h. In strumous subjects with tendency to enlarged tonsils, Calc. phos. 3x—3, gr. iii. 8h. Vomiting, Kreas. 3, 6h. Stitching pains in the chest, cough between 2 and 3 A.M., Kal. c. 3, gr. ii.—6, 2h. Chronic inflammation of small patch of lung with rusty expectoration, Phos. 3, 2h. Chronic inflammation of a considerable portion of lung; with night-sweat, constipation, loaded urine, Lyc. 6, 2h. Consolidation of lung, rattling of mucus in chest, hoarse cough, worse at night, profuse yellow expectoration, Hep. v. 6, 2h. Where the cough is worst in the morning, and there are cutting pains about the chest, pain between the shoulders, Bry. 3, 2h. Where the cough is spasmodic, causing retching and vomiting of food, Dros. 6, 2h.; profuse perspiration, abundant sputa, yellowish or green, of sweet taste, Stannum 6, 2h. Where the skin is eruptive; in gouty or rheumatic persons; sinking sensation at 11 A.M., hot, fainty spells, Sul. 3, 4h. (Sulphur should always be well indicated by the symptoms when given in cases of phthisis, and should never be continued beyond the time when these symptoms are well relieved.)

BLEEDING. — In “bleeding consumption” (Phthisis florida), where there is a great deal of bleeding and very little to be made out on examining the chest, Ferr. acet. 1x, gtt. ii. 10 m. during an attack; as a preventive, 8h. In bleeding, where there is active congestion, dry skin, and fever, Acon. 3, 10 m.—1h. according to urgency. Frequent bleedings of small amount, Phos. 3, 2h. Dry cough followed by spitting of blood, Acalyph. ind. 1x, $\frac{1}{2}$ —2h. Florid frothy blood without much cough, Millefol. 1x, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. Florid frothy blood with cough and tickling behind sternum, Ferr. acet. 1x, gtt. ii. 10 m.—1h. Dark or clotted blood, Ham. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. The same with cough and tickling behind sternum, especially if accompanied by nausea, Ipec. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. For the prevention of hæmorrhage the best treatment is that directed to the general state as indicated by the general phthisical symptoms.

HECTIC FEVER.—In a general way, Arsen. iod. 3x, gr. ii. 8h., will keep this within bounds. If the fever is low and approaching typhoid, Baptis. 1, 2h. Dry skin, restlessness, irritating cough, Acon. 3, 1h. [Koumiss as advised above.]

PERSPIRATIONS.—Like the hectic fever, perspirations are as a rule best controlled by the remedy most indicated by the general condition. When they are so profuse as to constitute the leading symptom, Jaborandi 3x, 2h.

ACUTE TUBERCULAR CONSUMPTION (RAPID CONSUMPTION).—In premonitory dyspepsia, Calc. c. 6, 6h. In actual disease, Calc. c. 6, 2h. The same remedies as in chronic consumption, according to indications.

For particular indications of cough and pain in the side, see Cough, Chest, and Pleurisy.

Contusions. See Bruises.

Convulsions.—INFANTILE (DURING THE SEIZURE).—Flushed face, prominent throbbing fontanelle, from whatever cause, Bell. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. Pale face, sunken fontanelle, excitement without signs of congestion, Zinc. sulph. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. (If these characteristics are not prominently marked, the following indications will serve as guides.) During teething, in fretful children, green watery stools, Cham. 6, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. From eating indigestible fruit, Nux. v. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. With gastro-intestinal disorder and great pain, anguish, intolerance of milk, Æthusa cyn. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h. In whooping-cough, Cupr. m. 6, $\frac{1}{4}$ h.

PREVENTION.—The above-named medicines, according to the indications given, at longer intervals (four times a day). Diet and regimen must be attended to. In scrofulous and rickety children the constitutional remedies must be given, either alone or in alternation with any of the above. See Scrofula and Rickets.

Cornea. See Eye.

Corns.—RECENT OR PAINFUL.—Ferr. Picric. 3, 6h. Inflamed or ulcerated, Acid. nit. 1, 6h. Hydrastis ointment (Hydr. φ, 5j., Vaseline 3j.)

Corpulence.—In addition to suitable regimen and diet, Phos. 3, 8h. If this fails to do good after a month's trial, give (1) Amm. brom. 3x, 8h., (2) Calc. c. 3, gr. ii.—6, 8h., (3) Calc. Arsen. 3x, gr. i. 8h. (A table spoonful of lemon-juice in a little water, sweetened, may be taken three times a day if it does not disagree.)

Coryza. See Cold.

Cough.—According to GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS :

Diet.—It is impossible to lay down rules to suit all cases : every individual case must be studied by itself. The following hints may, however, serve as useful guides to the prescriber.

IN HEALTH.—So long as digestion is performed without discomfort, and the bodily weight, strength, and activity maintained, the less people think about their diet the better.

HOMŒOPATHIC DIETARY.—In the days when the higher dilutions were more largely given, patients under homœopathic treatment were put on much more strict dietary rules than it is now the custom to enjoin. It is an observed fact that those who live exclusively on vegetable diet are more readily acted on by medicines than those who eat meat ; and, in a general way, the simpler the dietary of a person is, the more amenable he is to the action of medicines. If the person under treatment lives plainly, and the disorder is not specially connected with the digestive system, no change need be made in the dietary. If the patient is not a simple liver, the following rules should be laid down :—Avoidance of all alcoholic drinks and tobacco ; also strong tea and coffee. The latter are better replaced by plain warm milk or scalded milk (a cup one-half or two-thirds full of milk filled up with boiling water). Cocoa made from the nibs, or cocoa shells, or the cocoa essences, are better than tea or coffee. Strong acids and pickles, strong spices, and very salt things and pastry, should be forbidden. There should be an interval of at least five hours between the meals ; and all eating and drinking between meals should be disallowed. For the rest, breakfast may consist of porridge of some kind with milk ; toast, bread, butter, and bacon, eggs, or fish. Lunch : soup, fish, a little meat, white or red, milk-pudding or stewed fruit, and ripe fruit. Dinner : a variation of lunch, only a little more substantial. Among substitutes for meat, various dishes containing cheese, e.g., macaroni cheese is the best. Cooked cheese is more digestible than raw cheese. Grated cheese added to soup improves its nutrient properties. After cheese, lentils, peas and haricot beans are the most valuable of nitrogenous foods.

INFANTS.—Until infants are eight months old they should have nothing but their mothers' milk ; or, failing that and a wet-nurse, the nearest substitute, cow's milk. As that is a little richer than women's milk, it is necessary to dilute it with one-eighth of water. Of course it should be warmed to blood-heat (roughly, 100° F.) before it is given, but not boiled. The Aylesbury Dairy Company's artificial human milk is an excellent preparation. Carnrick's soluble food is one of the best of prepared foods. The Swiss condensed milk agrees well with many infants.

Asses' milk and mares' milk are less rich in solids than women's, and do not curdle. These can, therefore, often be tolerated when cows' milk disagrees. Goats' milk is more rich than cows', and is therefore not so suitable to the digestion of infants; but is often very good for thin, weakly children. When all milk disagrees cream may be given diluted with twice its quantity of water. It may be sweetened with a little sugar, or, if there is constipation, with manna, and should be given lukewarm. This is very useful when weaning.

After a child is eight months old, it should be partially weaned; and cow's milk and foods made with milk and rusks, baked flour, or nursery biscuits, should be added. An excellent food for infants is made by gently simmering groats in milk. A tablespoonful of groats is put into a vessel containing a pint of milk; this is then placed in a saucepan, or other vessel, containing water, which is allowed to boil. When the milk has lost a quarter of its bulk, it should be strained, and is then ready to be given. The groats remaining behind make an excellent food for older children. At ten months it should be completely weaned, and the same food given in increasing quantity. In the second year, as the teeth develop, solid food, such as bread-and-butter and milk puddings, may be given; also gravy with bread or potatoes, and later a little meat.

CORPULENCY.—Avoid the following:—Fat of meat, butter, cream, sugar, sweets, pastry, puddings, farinaceous articles—as corn-flour, rice, sago, potatoes, carrots, parsnips, beetroot, sweet ales, porter, stout, port wine, and all sweet wines. The following dietary is to be recommended:—Wheaten bread, especially brown bread; gluten biscuits; lean meat, poultry, game, eggs, green vegetables, succulent fruits; milk only sparingly.

THINNESS; AND TENDENCY TO, OR ACTUAL PRESENCE OF, CONSUMPTION.—Where it is well borne, cod-liver oil, beginning with a teaspoonful, immediately after meals; fat meats, butter, cream, milk, cocoa, chocolate, bread, potatoes, farinaceous foods, oatmeal porridge, sweets, a preparation of suet and milk (one quarter of a pound of mutton suet cut fine and placed in two pints of milk, this to be placed in a vessel of water and simmered down to one pint, the fat being skimmed off on rising) is often liked and well borne when cod-liver oil cannot be taken, and is especially valuable in consumptive cases.

FEVERS.—Water gruel is the ideal fever diet, but in these artificial days scarcely anybody likes it. In the fevers of short duration, as febricula, simple scarlatina, measles, and German measles, a liberal supply of barley-water and plain water will often suffice till the fever is gone, and the stomach able to digest other food. Where the fever is more prolonged, as in the graver varieties of scarlatina and measles, and in typhus and typhoid, it is necessary to sustain the patient's strength. Here milk is the chief stay. In typhoid and scarlet fevers, since the milk may have been the vehicle of contagion, it is well to have it boiled. It is also better boiled for another reason—it does not curdle in the stomach. Otherwise it may be taken as the patient likes it best; and when it is not tolerated plain, one-sixth lime water, or one-half soda-water, will often make it acceptable. Whey, Whey Koumiss, No. 2 (Aylesbury), and mares' koumiss, are excellent forms to give it in, if not easily borne plain. If the patient will take half a pint at a time, he may be allowed to go two hours without being again fed; if he takes less, he must be fed oftener. Milk being the basis of diet in continued fevers, gruel may be given in alternation; also beef-tea—Brand's being the best manufactured, and home-made beef-tea being the best of all—mutton, veal, or chicken broth, calves'-foot jelly ; water and barley-water being given as much as the patient likes. The danger of over-feeding fever cases must be guarded against, as well as the opposite, since it is only what the patient digests that does him good, and not all that he can be made to swallow. During convalescence especial care must be had in typhoid not to allow the patient solid food until the temperature has been for some days normal night and morning. Sago, tapioca, and puddings of that kind, may be first given, then bread and butter, white fish, white meat, until the usual diet is gradually reached.

IN BRONCHIAL AFFECTIONS.—Hot milk in some saline water.

IN DYSPEPSIA.—Toast, stale bread, white fish, chicken, game, stewed mutton, floury potatoes, and rice may be taken ; vegetables generally to be avoided. Of ripe fruits, grapes are the best. An egg broken into a wineglass, and swallowed whole with a little vinegar, pepper, or a tablespoonful of wine, is a sustaining and easily digested form of food. Peptonized foods, and the various preparations of pepsine, are of temporary value, but should not be relied on for long, Bullock's Acid Glycerine of Pepsine—a teaspoonful in a tablespoonful of hot water, drunk in the middle of a meal—is often helpful here.

ULCER OF THE STOMACH.—Milk in some form or other should be the chief if not the only diet. Koumiss. (Where there is constipation, No. 1 of either A, B, or C ; where there is looseness of the bowels, No. 3 ; and where they are regular, No. 2. Where it is well borne, A or "full" koumiss is the best, as it is the richest.)

DYSENTERY.—Milk, rice, eggs, white fish, and white flesh. Salted and dried meats, fruits and vegetables, should be avoided. Koumiss is often of service here. Ulm cortex (slippery elm) used for thickening milk, is an excellent preparation. In extreme cases, patients may be kept alive on wine alone when the stomach will retain nothing else. Claret is the best in this country, and in wine-growing countries the ordinary table-wine. Eight ounces may be taken daily, as much as two or three ounces being given at a time, and extremely slowly. Rice-milk—milk having had rice boiled in it for two or three hours, and then strained—may afterwards be given as well. A tea-cupful may be given two hours after the wine. Great care is required in returning to solid food, and the importunities of patients must be strenuously resisted.

DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN.—Mares' or asses' milk or koumiss, or whey koumiss No. 3.

GOUT.—Meat to be taken very sparingly; wines and malt liquors to be avoided altogether.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.—Absolute skim-milk dietary; or a diet which is almost entirely derived from the vegetable kingdom. (Eight to ten-grain doses of Citrate of Potash, in a wine glass of water, two or three times a day, facilitate the action of the kidneys when skim-milk-diet is being used. When the tongue becomes slimy a few grains of salt will put it right.) Skim-milk diet may be persevered with for a short time; but if the strength runs down under this, a more liberal diet must be given. It must not be forgotten that it is quite possible to get rid of the albumen from the urine and starve the patient at the same time.

DIABETES.—Gluten bread, green vegetables, cream, butter, meat with fat; tea and coffee may be taken, and saccharine, mannite or glycerine used to sweeten them if necessary. Sugar-containing and starchy foods to be avoided. Sucking ice will relieve thirst, and rinsing the mouth with iced water will be as refreshing as a deep draught.

LITHIC ACID DIATHESIS AND TENDENCY TO STONE IN THE BLADDER.—Avoid milk, red meat, rich fish, sugar, starchy food, fruits (except those named below), potatoes, tea, coffee, beer, wines or spirits. The dietary to consist of plain cocoa without milk or sugar, stale bread, white fish, bacon, eggs, bird (chicken or game), apples, tomatoes, lemons.

SYPHILIS.—Alcohol and tobacco to be strictly avoided ; in extreme cases a vegetarian dietary must be enjoined.

Diplopia. See Eyes: SIGHT.

Diphtheria.—True, malignant, membranous diphtheria, Merc. cyan. 6, every hour. At the same time the throat may be cleansed from time to time with a wash of Phytol. ϕ 45 drops to the ounce), a small sponge, fixed in a handle, sold by chemists, being the best means. [A teaspoonful of yeast may be given every two or three hours.] This treatment alone will suffice for the great majority of attacks. When there is œdema of throat, Apis. 3x, every hour. Air-passages involved and the croup symptoms becoming worse, Iod. 1, 1h. (see CROUP). Great prostration, the constitutional symptoms predominating much over the amount of local affection ; beginning on left side and spreading to right, Lach. 6, 1h. When the affection begins on the right side and spreads to the left, Lyc. 6—30, 1h. When prostration is extreme, Ars. 3, every ten minutes, will often restore the patient. The greatest care must be taken not to raise the patient from the recumbent position, as that is often of itself sufficient to induce fatal syncope. [When tracheotomy has been performed, the tube and the trachea should be cleaned out from time to time with a feather dipped in a solution of boracic acid (gr. viii.—3j.) Steam from a kettle containing a few drops of kreasote in the water should be kept playing within the tent.]

SCARLATINAL DIPHTHERIA.—The treatment in general is the same as above ; if, however, there is much swelling of the external glands, Mer. bin. 3x, gr. i. 2h. ; the throat being cleansed, if necessary, with Phytolacca gargle, as above.

FEVERISH DIPHTHERIA.—With high fever, pains in the back and limbs, but no prostration, Phyt. ix, 1h. with the local application of Phytolacca as above.

Dropsy with dark, scanty urine, Hell. n. 3, 2h. As a general remedy for dropsy, anasarca, hydrocephalus, hydrothorax, ascites, Apocy. cannab. φ, gtt. v. 2h. Dropsy from disease of the liver, Apocy. cannab. φ, gtt. v. 3h. (This will relieve the dropsy frequently without remedying the disease of the liver.) Dropsy from organic disease of the heart, Ars. iod. 3x. gr. iii. after meals. If the pulse is feeble, irregular, fluttering, Digit. 1, 2h.

Dysentery.—Begin in general with Merc. cor. 3, every hour. If there is much colic relieved by bending double, Coloc. 1. 1h. Should these fail within two days to effect great improvement, the following may be given as indicated :—Autumnal dysentery, with

- fatiguing tenesmus, worse at night, Sul. 3, gr. ii. 3h. Heat, rawness, soreness in rectum with prolapse,
- Aloe 3, 2h. Burning and tickling in the rectum, tenesmus, Ac. nit. 1, 2h. Low typhous condition, Rhus tox. 1, 2h. See also Diarrhœa for particular indications. Tenesmus after dysentery, enemata of linseed tea, Nux. v. 1, 2h. After these, Lil. tig. 30, 2h.

MIDDLE EAR (TYMPANIC CAVITY), INFLAMMATION.

OF.—After exposure to dry cold, at the beginning, pain, restlessness, anxiety, Acon 3, $\frac{1}{2}$ h. ; Plantago ϕ diluted with an equal quantity of warm water, to be dropped into the ear every ten minutes, or less often, according to urgency, a little cotton wool being placed in the orifice of the ear after each application. After Acon., or when the local affection is decided, the pain almost making the patient beat his head against the wall, Merc. s. 6, $\frac{1}{2}$ h. Should the pain not yield readily, Plantago ϕ 1h., and locally. When suppuration has occurred, and the drum is threatened, incision should not be delayed. When the mastoid cells are involved, Caps. 3, $\frac{1}{2}$ h. When there is distinct suppuration around the mastoid cells a free incision should be made. Chronic inflammation, see DISCHARGE.

DISCHARGE FROM.—Abnormal accumulation of wax : let the wax be softened by dropping into the ears pure olive oil for two or three nights, and then gently syringe with water at blood-heat. Occasional dropping in of oil will prevent the hardening of wax and facilitate its natural discharge when there is a tendency to accumulation. In chronic purulent discharge from the ear, whether depending on chronic inflammation of the middle ear or due to other causes, the following courses of treatment may be adopted. Precise indications cannot be given, and they are therefore arranged in the order of the probability of their general usefulness. They should be tried for periods of not less than three weeks before being changed, and should be continued as long as there is improvement. The discharge should be allowed to flow freely from the ear at night. The local application should be used at bed-time, and the ear washed with plain warm water in the morning :—

(1) Kali mur. 3, gr. ii. 6h. (Kali muria'ticum is the chloride of potassium, not the chlorate; it is one of Schüssler's tissue remedies.) (2) Borax 3, 6h.; about six grains of finely powdered boracic acid to be blown into the ear at bedtime; [in place of the pure boracic acid, a mixture of boracic acid, tincture of Plantago, and sugar of milk may be used: thoroughly moisten a quantity of sugar of milk with Plantago ϕ ; triturate in a mortar gradually, adding as much boracic acid as there is of sugar of milk. Triturate until the powder is dry]. (3) Hydrast. 1, 6h.; glycerole of Hydrastis (Hydrast. ϕ , eight drops to glycerine half an ounce), to be dropped into the ear every night. (4) Hepar sul. 6, 8h. (5) Discharging pus, Merc. sol. 6, 8h.; a very dilute ointment of Acid Nitrate of Mercury (fifteen grains of the Nitrate of Mercury ointment of the British Pharmacopœia to half an ounce of vaseline) may be applied to the ear every night.—(N.B. In all inflammatory and catarrhal ear affections the teeth should be examined; decayed teeth will often cause trouble sympathetically in the ears. Some of the plates for false teeth made by dentists contain mercury, and in sensitive persons these may occasion disorders of the ears and hearing.)

POLYPUS.—In stumous subjects, Calc. c. 6, 8h. In others, Thuja 30, 6h. ; the polypus may be painted with the mother-tincture of Thuja every night. If these measures fail, Ac. nit. 6, 6h.

DEAFNESS.—From blocking of the Eustachian tube, Merc. sol. 3, gr. iii.—6, 3h. If it does not yield after a week of this, Hydrast. 1, 3h. After this, Mezer. 1, 3h. Eczema.—Simple, acute, general, or local, Rhus ven. 3, 6h. [When the eczema is general, an absolute milk diet is of great assistance to aid the cure. In giving Rhus in skin diseases it is necessary to be prepared for aggravations. Should the skin become worse, the medicine should not be changed, but a single dose of a higher dilution (30) of the same medicine should be given and the result waited for. As local applications, bran-baths (four pounds of bran boiled with a little carbonate of soda in one gallon of water, the liquor after straining to be added to a sufficient quantity of water to make a bath), and where the affection is local, bran-water packs are useful ; a solution of Borax, twenty grains to the pint ; vaseline, when an ointment is required. Soft water should be used for washing. When crusts form, a linseed poultice should be applied to remove them.] Dry irritative eczema, Alumina 5, 4h. Eczema of backs of hands (bakers' and grocers' itch), Bovista 6, 6h. Eczema of scalp, Oleander 6, 6h. Of face and genitals, much itching, Croton 3, 6h. Epilepsy.—(The general condition of the patient must always be considered. Epilepsy will often be removed by medicines homœopathic to the general condition when medicines chosen according to the characteristics of the convulsions alone would have no influence. The following remedies are recommended on the supposition that the convulsions are the only, or at any rate the only serious, departure from health.)

RECENT EPILEPSY.—Kali cyan. 3, 8h. Recent, in young, sanguine subjects, Bell. 1x—3, 6h. Violent convulsions, frightful distortions of eyes and limbs. opisthotonos, Cic. v. 3, 6h. Violent convulsions, rigidity, foaming at the mouth, Ceananth. croc. 3, 6h. PURULENT INFLAMMATION OF THE EYE IN NEW-BORN CHILDREN (OPHTHALMIA NEONATORUM).

—Hygienic Treatment:—Immediately after birth the nurse must wash the infant's eyes with the greatest possible care, removing all traces of mucus. For this purpose a fine linen rag, dipped in clean water, may be used. Beginning at the outer corner, the eyelids are gently wiped from side to side, until all traces of mucus are removed, and the eyelids remain perfectly clean. Sponges must never be used. As soon as the child's eyes are thus washed clean and dried, the nurse is to wash her own hands most carefully in water with which carbolic acid, Condyl's fluid, or other disinfectant has been mixed. If in the first few days after birth signs of inflammation appear—redness, swelling, and sticking together of the lids—the greatest care must be taken. If from any reason the doctor cannot be in attendance immediately, the nurse must herself cleanse the eyes in the following manner:—A perfectly clean and very soft piece of linen is moistened with tepid water; any excess of water is then squeezed out. The muco-purulent discharge between the eyelids is wiped off very gently—without scrubbing or scratching; special attention being paid to the inner corner of the eyelid where the mucus particularly accumulates. After repeatedly rinsing the linen in clean water, the upper eyelid is gently raised by means of the thumb placed on the eyelid immediately above the lashes, but without making any undue pressure. The muco-purulent matter which escapes is removed with the rag as often as it appears. In the next place, the lower eyelid is drawn down with the forefinger, and also wiped with great care. If the eyelids stick together, they must be moistened with water until separation takes place without any effort. "The water used in cleansing the eyes must be perfectly pure ; no milk or soap is to be mixed with it. Medical Treatment.—Arg. nit. 3, 2h. ; after well washing, a drop of a solution of Arg. nit. (two grains to the ounce) to be introduced into the eye.

STRANGULATED PILES.—Sometimes after a difficult stool piles become protruded, and spasm of the sphincter occurs constricting the veins, and making return impossible and causing exquisite pain. When this occurs the best relief is obtained by applying a potato poultice. A quantity of potatoes are boiled or steamed and then mashed with plenty of unsalted butter and made into a poultice. This is placed on a triangularly folded piece of flannel and the patient is made to sit upon it. One point of the flannel is then turned up between the thighs and the others passed round the back to meet it in the usual napkin fashion. This will give instantaneous relief, and the piles will soon find their way back of themselves. Acon. 1 may be given every ten minutes. A very important measure in the management of piles is to avoid the use of paper after stool, substituting linen ; and to carefully wash the parts with tepid water after each action. If possible it should be arranged to have the action in the evening just before retiring to bed.

Tea.—EFFECTS OF.—(1) Fer. 6, 4h. ; (2), Chin. 3, 4h.

Teeth.—CARIES.—To prevent caries, live on simple food ; too rich, too sweet, or too exclusively animal a diet, each tends to produce such a condition of the digestion and secretions of the mouth as favours the destruction of the teeth. Vegetarians say that their teeth are easily kept clean. The next most important point is to clean the teeth thoroughly and regularly. The formation of tartar on the teeth is by no means preservative of them, as is vulgarly imagined ; it tends simply to destroy the gum and rob the teeth of support. When it has formed it should be taken off by a dentist, if necessary, by the process of scaling. It should never be allowed to re-form. The best dentifrices are the simplest ; those, for instance, composed of powdered Castile soap, with a little powder of harder grain for polishing the enamel. Such a tooth-powder is Dr. C. R. Coffin's American Dentifrice, prepared by Darling, of Manchester. The best brush is one neither very soft nor very hard. The first teeth of children should be most scrupulously cared for. If they are allowed to decay and come out, the jaws fail to expand properly, and the seeds are laid of future trouble with the second set. Besides, the first set give evidence of those depraved conditions of constitution which by proper treatment may be in large measure or wholly counteracted before the second set appear. For all reasons, then, the temporary teeth demand the careful attention of both parents and physicians. It is quite as necessary that carious temporary teeth should be stopped, whenever possible, as it is that the permanent should. The following medicinal treatment will be found effective when combined with proper dieting and proper cleansing :—

IN CHILDREN.—If the teeth are pegged, Merc. viv. 6, 8h. ; this should be given persistently for three months at a time, omitting every fourth month, and then resuming. In rickety children, if thin, Silic. 6, 8h. ; in fat, scrofulous children, Calc. c. 6, 8h. If the teeth turn black and decay, Kreas. 6, 8h. Teeth with pits or holes in them, from defective enamel, Tuberc. 100, a few globules once in ten days. • [In all cases cod-liver oil may be given with advantage. If possible, residence in the country should be advised, with abundance of milk to take, and milk foods (see under Diet, INFANTS' ; also Dentition) and bread and butter. A chalk country is best.] For tooth-ache, see Toothache.

IN ADULTS.—Where the teeth rapidly become black, and, when decay has commenced, rapidly break down, sensitiveness of the teeth to the least touch, aching after eating or drinking, Staph. 3, 8h. Decay, loosening ; turning black ; bleeding gums, Merc. v. 6, 8h. Rapid decay and falling out ; sordes ; teeth sore ; sore bleeding gums, Plant. 3, 4h. Worms.—Hygienic Treatment.—It often happens that the constitution is rendered more susceptible to the attacks of intestinal parasites, and more tolerant of their presence, by faulty hygienic surroundings. In all cases this should be attended to, and the drainage especially; sewer gas has a strong tendency to predispose the system. The natural history of the parasite should be attended to as far as it is known. Uncooked or undercooked fish and meat should be avoided to guard against tape-worm and trichinæ. Sweets, sugar, pastry, raw fruit, and vegetables should be avoided. The thread-worm is always introduced into the mouth in the shape of eggs; the eggs hatch in the small intestine, and the worms lodge in the cæcum; they lay their eggs at the anus; and their whole life is only a fortnight. Children suffering from thread-worms should be prevented from putting their fingers into the mouth, as they are very apt to scratch the irritated parts in sleep. This caution may be necessary for older persons.

Constitutional Treatment.—As a return to healthy hygienic conditions will sometime suffice to render a patient intolerant of intestinal parasites, and thus bring about their expulsion, so a return to a more healthy condition of body, when weakened by any other cause, will often produce the same effect. When the child is scrofulous, fat, pale, lymphatic, head hot and perspiring at night, the perspiration not being offensive, feet cold and clammy, Calc. c. 12, 8h. Distension of abdomen, poor appetite, constipation, dark thick urine, pains in the body going from right to left, Lyc. 12, 8h. Scrofulous eruptive subjects, sinking sensation in epigastrium in forenoon, hot head, cold feet, Sul. 30, 8h. In strumous, feeble, precocious children, feverish, dry, hot skin, furred tongue, tumid abdomen, bowels confined, appetite rapacious, nervous irritability, Spig. 3, 8h. Fever, canine hunger, pale urine, picking nose, tendency to convulsions, Cina 30, 8h. Indigestion with low feverish condition, Bapt. 3, 8h. Anæmia ; passage of blood and mucus, Ferr. mur. 3x, 3h.

[Constitutional treatment will of itself often suffice to remove all the symptoms of the parasites. If it does not, Direct Treatment may be employed, as described below.]

ROUND WORMS (Ascaris lumbricoides).—When the presence of this parasite is made out, Sant. ix, gr. iii. every morning, fasting ; there must be no solid food given during this time. This may be repeated three to six mornings.

TAPE-WORM (Tænia solium).—After a twelve hours' fast, a draught of the liquid extract of male fern (Filix mas) should be given. The best formula is Filix mas (liquid extract) gtt. xxx., syrup (not mucilage) ℥ii., Distilled water ℥i. Two hours after this an ounce of castor-oil should be taken. If this does not succeed in completely killing the worm, give Filix mas φ, gtt. v. 8h. persistently, for two or three months ; or a strong infusion of Kousso taken in the morning, fasting, and followed in an hour by an ounce of castor-oil.

THREAD-WORMS (Oxyurides, commonly but erroneously called Ascarides).—[Constitutional hygienic treatment, though applicable to all worm patients, is most applicable to sufferers from thread-worms.] All essential oils are poisonous to thread-worms. To give temporary relief, warm injections containing a few drops of oil of turpentine (five to the ounce of water) will destroy and bring away all that may be in the rectum. Internally, Cina 3, 4h. Where there is much irritation in the rectum, Teucr. ix, gtt. iii. 8h. Fever, dry skin, capricious¹ appetite, swollen abdomen, constipation, nervous irritability, Spigel. 3, 4h. Low fever, with loaded tongue, loss of appetite, dull condition, Bapt. 3, 4h. ..

TRICHINÆ.—It is impossible to destroy these parasites when once they have commenced to migrate. As soon as it is known that infected pork has been eaten, if still in the stomach, an emetic should be taken; if it has passed into the intestines a brisk castor-oil purge should be administered to expel what may remain. When the fever is once established all that remains is to support the patient's strength, and administer such internal remedies as correspond to the general symptoms. In general, Baptis. 3x, 1h., or Ars. 3x, 1h. will prove suitable.

Wounds.—Contused, Arn. 3, 1h.; locally, Arnica lotion, (φ 3i.—3iii.) See also Bruises, and Brain: CONCUSSION OF. Cuts, Arn. 3, 1h.; locally, Calend. lotion (φ 5i.—3i.) When the patient passes into a typhoid state, Ars. 3, $\frac{1}{2}$ h. Exhaustion, hæmorrhage, jaundice, Crotal. 3, $\frac{1}{4}$ h.

A DICTIONARY OF DOMESTIC MEDICINE

and Homœopathic Treatment. By J. H. Clarke, M.D.
Foolscap 8vo., 291 pp., 3s. 6d., cloth. Giving in alphabetical arrangement a description of diseases, directions for their general management, and homœopathic treatment; with a special section on diseases of infants.

"Such are useful in enabling parents to give the right medicine till the doctor can see the case; and also in the country, where no homœopathic practitioner is near. Where such a book is wanted it will be found clear and reliable."—Homœopathic Review.

REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE. Being the Seventh

Hahnemannian Oration, delivered at the London Homœopathic Hospital, October 5, 1886. Price 1s., stiff boards; cloth, 1s. 6d.

"The principal portion of Dr. Clarke's lecture consisted of a sketch of the life and labours of Samuel Hahnemann, and an advocacy of the claims of his system upon public recognition. . . . His detestation of the practice of blood-letting and of complex prescriptions, and his enlightened treatment of the insane, were spoken of; and the lecturer concluded with a trenchant onslaught on those practitioners who, while dubbing Hahnemann a charlatan, did not disdain to present their pupils with a dish of crumbs furtively swept from Hahnemann's floor."—Morning Post.

NURSING AS A PROFESSION. Price 2d.

ARS MEDICI: The Doctor's Art in its relation to Science. Price 6d.

COLD CATCHING, COLD PREVENTING, AND COLD CURING. Cloth, price 1s.

"A book for every house."—Christian World.

INDIGESTION: Its Causes and Cure. Cloth, price 1s.

"These two little books, 'Cold Catching' and 'Indigestion,' convey a considerable amount of useful common-sense information on colds and indigestion. The measures usually adopted to relieve the suffering each generally occasions are also sufficiently detailed, and the teaching illustrated by cases drawn from the Author's practice. Both are written in an attractive and pleasing style, and they will, we doubt not, prove serviceable to those who follow the precepts they enjoin."—Homœopathic Review.

A NEW EDITION OF THE Companion to the Homœopathic Pharmacopœias,

By L. T. ASHWELL.

Fourth Edition, 208 pp., price 3s. 6d. Post free to any part of the world on receipt of remittance.

“It is a real ‘Companion’ to the Pharmacopœias. Being arranged in form of a dictionary, a drug is found at once, and under each heading all Pharmaceutical details are given in a concise and accurate manner. Full details are also given of the modes of preparation of the medicines, and the processes employed. We commend the work to all as a most useful and valuable one for ready reference.”—Homœopathic Review, December, 1890.

“We are pleased to see that this exceedingly useful Manual has reached its fourth edition. The dictionary form of the work makes it exceedingly handy to refer to, and the information is put in such a condensed, and at the same time clear, style, that there is every facility for finding what is required. Whenever we come across an out-of-the-way drug mentioned in Homœopathic literature, we go at once to the ‘Companion,’ and are sure to find all about its natural history there. The ‘Companion’ has become a necessity.”—Homœopathic World, November, 1890.
